Editorial

Dear Readers,

We are again thrilled to announce our current publication of Volume 8, Issue 1- May 2024. Within the academic and scientific journey of consistency publication have gained multiple experiences with the authors and reviewers, which the Journal of Interdisciplinary Sciences (JIS) will always appreciate and have learned to move extra miles. Moreover, sometimes, there are authors whose submission may not have been accepted either during the editorial review and in the initial screening phase or by the reviewers, we also highly appreciate those authors for considering JIS for publication platform.

A journey in research is not always simple and there are multiple issues that relates to inconsistency in scientific and academic realm, however, JIS is determined in promoting to enrich the beautiful minds and towards intelligent minds, for which authors whose articles were not accepted on any of the occasions, we are here to help to create an avenue if scientific and academic construction are further developed of those articles. We are also creating open access platform for the readers offering free download of current and archived articles, although, the JIS is a social contributor and receives no funding from any other organization, the editor is solely supporting the JIS for being academically responsible for the authors, readers, scientists, researchers, students and to all around the globe for academic enrichment. JIS proudly stand to appreciate all the authors so far who have trusted JIS and have published their articles during the journey from 2017 to 2024.

Our next issue will be published in November 2024 and we invite researchers, managers, leaders, scientists, students and others for paper submission. The call for paper submission is also announced in the journal's announcement portal
